TARIFF PROBLEMS PUZZLE SENATORS

Committee Revising Underwood Bill for Consideration in the Senate.

THE AGRICULTURAL SCHEDULE

Tariff Experts Contending With Absorbing Problems—Agricultural Products Considered—Question of Free Wool.

Washington, May 29.—Whether to put cattle, wheat and oats on the free list or to put a duty on their products is one of the absorbing problems of the Senate Finance committee just now in revising the Underwood tariff bill for Senate consideration.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance committee; John Sharp Williams, chairman of the sub-committee handling the agricultural schedule, and Representative Underwood, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, discussed the matter with President Wilson today. The President is reported to have agreed with Senator Williams and Senator Simmons that raw materials and their products in the agricultural schedule should be equalized in the bill instead of placing raw products on the dutiable list, and making meats and flour free as in the bill at present. To equalize them was determined upon several weeks ago, and the Senate sub-committee today is reported to have decided also to put cattle, sheep hogs, wheat and oats on the free list.

Whether the President agreed to free listing of the raw materials or urged that the agricultural products be made dutiable in conformity with the Underwood rates on raw materials was not disclosed after today's conference, but Democratic Senators were resigned to the generally accepted report that all these articles would be placed on the free list.

They were generally in accord with the definite announcement by Senator Simmons after his conference with the President that the 5 per cent. tariff discount on imports in American ships would be stricken from the bill.

Representative Underwood and other House leaders, however, are not satisfied that the discount conflicts with treaty provisions and they are expected to make a fight to have the clause re-inserted when the bill reaches conference.

Free Wool and Sugar.

Free wool and free sugar as provided for in the Underwood bill tonight are regarded to be in a stronger position than ever and tightening of the strings on these administration measures is reported to be due largely to President Wilson's recent attack on efforts of lobbyists to change the sentiment as to these schedules. One Democratic Senator who heretofore has been of the mind that a small duty should have been placed on wool and that free sugar in three years should not have been imposed, changed his mind today. He now says he is convinced that both can get along without protection.

The cotton schedule is reported now to be very unsatisfactory in many instances to the finance's subcommittee and it is to be generally re-arranged and many items to be changed, the duties in most cases to be increased from the Underwood rates.

The Income Tax Section.

Again today the Williams sub-committee was at work on the income tax section of the bill and a comprehensive brief, supplementing his oral testimony, was filed by Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, opposing the taxing of mutual life insurance companies.

Mr. Kingley revealed a point hitherto not discussed that "the bill entirely ignores the fundamental provision which says that incomes under $4,000 shall not be taxed."

"Not 10 per cent. of the policy-holders in co-operative or mutual companies have incomes over $4,000" Mr. Kingsley asserted. "Yet this bill proceeds to tax a man, however small his income, merely because he insures his life."

Declaring that there are no profits in mutual life insurance companies, and that they should be exempted from the income tax just as mutual fire insurance companies and other organizations will be, Mr. Kingsley pointed out that by State and Federal governments life insurance companies and their members already were taxed $28,500,000 annually, $1,500,000 being the corporation tax which is to be re-enacted in this bill.

"As it lies before the Senate," he added, "the bill taxes what are mistakenly called 'dividends,' paid to members of mutual companies. It levies the tax, although our own Federal government has declared that such returns under the corporation tax used in the abatement of future premiums are not 'dividends.' To tax them is to levy a tax on a tax, to punish individuals for effectually doing the very thing the State is preparing to do when it levies a tax."

Representative Hull, of Tennessee, author of the income tax, has urged the Senate Finance committee to be careful in revising the section lest they leave any loop-hole through which companies might evade the tax.

Foreign Objections.

Senator Simmons declared today that objections of foreign nations to the clause to compel foreign merchants to submit their books to an American agent in cases of disputed valuation would be met. In this case, as in the preferential on goods—imported in American vessels—the State Department holds that protests are justified. The President upheld that view.

Cuts Too Great.

More than 100 witnesses from the New England and Southern cotton sections are reported to have favorably impressed the Senators of the Finance committee with their arguments that some of the cuts were too great. The committee also is expected to recommend some changes in the chemical schedule, among them to be the free listing of certain dyes used in the manufacture of cotton which the House bill has included in the dutiable list.

Senator Stone's sub-committee still is working over the wool and metal schedules. Some reductions are known to have been decided upon in the steel schedule. Structural steel will go to the free list.

Senator Cummins today introduced an amendment to the tariff bill to put a tax of 10 per cent. ad valorem on stock market sales. The tax would be levied upon the sales of capital stock, shares, bonds or other obligations of corporations, all sales of products of the soils, meats or provisions of any character, made under the regulations of any stock exchange, grain, cotton or provision exchange, board of trade or other such institutions, wherein the seller is not the owner of the property.

The Finance sub-committee headed by Senators Williams, already is considering the proposed amendment.

STEAMER HAVERFORD RESCUED

Vessel Strikes Rocks in Dense Fog—Efficiency of Wireless Demonstrated—Narrow Escape From Destruction

Queenstown, May 29.—The American line steamer Haverford, which sailed yesterday from Liverpool for Philadelphia, with 134 cabin and 850 steerage passengers aboard, went on the rocks westward of Cork's Head this afternoon while feeling her way cautiously in a dense fog. A big hole was torn in her forward compartment.

The First Aid

The wireless again demonstrated its efficiency. Within a few minutes the ship was in communication with Queenstown. First aid in the form of tugs which ply between the port and passing liners were sent to the rescue. Before dusk all the passengers, with light luggage, had been safely brought ashore. When the last passenger was taken off there were 15 feet of water in the forehold.

An attempt will be made to tow the vessel off at high tide at midnight.

Message of Distress.

The admiralty station received the first message of distress. This it transmitted immediately to the American line office and at the same time dispatched the big government tugs Hellespoint and Stormcock to the liner's aid. The company's Queenstown agent soon afterwards sent three of the Clyde shipping company's tugs which, with the tender and tugs carrying 80 Irish passengers who expected to board the Haverford already on the way, soon arrived at the scene of the accident. Thus the stranded vessel in a short time was surrounded by a small fleet.

Anxiety Aboard Ship

There was considerable anxiety aboard the Haverford as she was shrouded in the densest fog but nothing resembling a panic. The transfer of passengers was made in perfect order.

The captain and crew remained on the ship.

ALLEGED CONFESSION

Negro Implicated in Phagan Murder Makes Statement

Atlanta, Ga., May 29.—In an alleged confession which local police tonight say was secured from James Conley, negro sweeper at the pencil factory where the body of Mary Phagan was found on April 27th, he is said to have admitted personal knowledge of the murder.

The police claim that Conley accuses Leo M. Frank, factory superintendent of the crime, but insists that he did not see it committed. Conley is also said to have admitted making an attempt to dispose of the body. The negro is alleged to have said that he kept silence until tonight, believing that he would be rewarded by Frank.

While police officials tonight say that Conley's alleged confession strengthens their case against Frank, who is under indictment for the crime, the friends of the factory superintendent insist that the negro is attempting to fix his own deed upon an innocent man. They refuse to credit Conley's alleged statements, and will continue their efforts to lay the murder at the negro's door.

STATEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT

President in Sympathy With the Probe—May Furnish Names of Lobbyists—Particular Emphasis Placed on Tariff

Washington, May 29.—After a sharp debate over terms the Senate tonight adopted a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to investigate the charge that a lobby is being maintained in Washington, or elsewhere, to influence pending legislation with particular emphasis upon its efforts for or against the Underwood tariff bill. The resolution was in direct response to the public statement made by President Wilson that an "insidious lobby" was operating against the tariff bill.

President Wilson in his talk with the newspaper correspondents today declared he was in sympathy with the proposed investigation and would be glad to furnish the names of the lobbyists to whom he referred if "public necessity required."

Under the resolution which was adopted as introduced by Senator Cummins, with amendments by Senator Kern, the Judiciary Committee is directed to report its findings within ten days. No provision was made for open hearings.

The resolution directs the committee to report the names and methods of lobbyists, and the bills they are "seeking to change."

The names of Senators to whom representations by "such persons or any persons" were made and under what circumstances, all persons to testify under oath.

Whether any Senator is financially or professionally interested in the production, manufacture or sale of any article mentioned in the tariff bill.

The interest any Senator has in legislation pending or has had in any legislation before the Senate during his term of service.

The President is respectfully invited "to aid the committee in its investigation by giving to it any information in his possession" relative to the investigation which he "considers proper" to make.

There was little difference of opinion over the need for an investigation. A sharp colloquy arose, however, when Senator Kern proposed an amendment to that part of the resolution dealing with the testimony of Senators and information to be obtained from the President.

The Cummins' resolution provided that the committee "take the statement, under oath, of all Senators" who had received representations during the present session regarding pending legislation. Mr. Kern's amendment authorized the committee to "ascertain the character of representations made to influence legislation by any persons and the names of Senators to whom they were made."

Senator Cummins proposed to ask the President to furnish the names of the "lobbyists to whom he referred in the public statement issued by him," and "any other information about them or their efforts to bring about changes in the resolution now before the Senate which will promote general welfare." Under the Kern amendment he is invited to furnish any information in his possession with reference to the subject matter of the investigation "which he considers it proper to make public."

Republicans led by Senator Root and Senator Cummins declared the Kern amendments "emasculated" the resolution and left it practically valueless, while Democrats under the leadership of Senators Kern and Reed held that the change made only little difference in the end to be accomplished. The Kern amendment was adopted on a strictly party vote of 38 to 28 and he resolution by a viva voce vote without any apparent dissent.

Senator Swanson said he denounced any effort to put the President in a false light by making it appear he had said Senators had been improperly approached, while Senator Townsend declared the publication of the President's statement was for the purpose of influencing certain Senators who were thought to be wavering in their support of the Underwood bill.

Senator Penrose told the Senate he could not understand the shrinkage of the Democrats from appearing before the committee for information about the persons with whom they had talked. He added that he had learned to recognize instantly both the lobbyist and the business man who came to Washington with extravagant claims, but that he had learned to accept the conclusions of neither.

"But it is for these new Senators I am anxious," continue the Senator. "Gold bricks are floating around thick."

Another bill proposing the registration of all persons engaged in attempting to influence or promote legislation, was introduced today by Senator Weeks.

PROMINENT WOMAN SUICIDES

Wife of Retired Capitalist Takes Her Own Life

Lexington, N. C., May 29.—Mrs. Laura Hinkle, wife of D. H. Hinkle, a retired capitalist, prominent socially and the mother of six sons, committed suicide at her home here this afternoon by hanging herself from the banisters while members of the household were absent. Continued ill-health is assigned as the cause for the act. Mrs. Hinkle tied a rope around the banister rail at the head of the stairs and with an end looped around her neck, dropped to her death.

CAROLINIANS IN WASHINGTON

Glenn Calls on President in Interest of Oliver, of Reidsville—More Postmasters Nominated and Confirmed—Notes

Wilmington Star Bureau,
23 Wyatt Building.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Former Governor R. B. Glenn was a visitor at the White House today. The former Governor spent quite a little time with the President and when he emerged from the President's private office he told the newspaper men that he called on Mr. Wilson in the interest of his friend, J. H. Oliver, who has been recommended for postmaster at Reidsville.

It has been understood that Senator Simmons would not allow the confirmation of Oliver should the President send his nomination to the Senate.

Nine loyal Democrats were put in close touch with the government pay roll today when the Senate confirmed that many nominations to be postmasters. In the list was R. S. Galloway, of Winston-Salem; J. H. Weddington, Charlotte; M. M. Faison, Roanoke Rapids; E. B. Perry, Jr., Littleton; J. E. Ligon, Lillington; Ira Hunt, Kittrell; W. E. Gary, Henderson; George L. Whitfield, Franklinton, and Mrs. N. G. Rowland, at West Raleigh. In addition to the confirmations the President sent the following nominations to the Senate: Postmasters—D. D. French, Lumberton; John B. Petteway, Jacksonville; Leonidas M. Michaux, Goldsboro; O. K. Holding, Wake Forest. Representative Page has recommended the following for appointment as postmasters: Edwin F. McKeithen, Aberdeen, and A. N. Bullock, Randleman.

W. A. Devin, of Oxford, a candidate for the assistant district attorneyship for Eastern Carolina, is here. Mr. Devin watched the proceedings of the Senate from the gallery.

"It was the first time I had been in the Senate since David B. Hill and Pettus were members of that august body," said Mr. Devin. "Pettus started to make a speech on free silver and nearly everybody left the chamber," he said.

His heart touched by the pleas of three little motherless girls, left destitute by the imprisonment of their father, President Wilson has granted a pardon to Marion Cook, serving a two years' penitentiary sentence for "moonshiner" distilling in North Carolina. The young girls whose pleas moved the President to grant clemency have been compelled to support themselves in a South'n cotton mill. A fine of $100, accompanying the sentence, has been remitted.

WHITE HOUSE GOSSIP.

President Sees Callers—Nominations Sent to the Senate.

Washington, May 29.—President Wilson cleared up a good deal of his work today and prepared to take the next three days off. He saw an unusually long list of callers; sent about 200 nominations to the Senate, and made known the progress he was making on a number of public questions.

The President let it be known that while he was studying the question of a civil government for the Canal Zone, he had not had an opportunity formally to take it up with Secretary Garrison of the War Department. He indicated that when the canal is near completion he will have disposed of the subject.

Dr. William Bayard Hale, a writer, is representing the administration on his visit to Mexico City, according to White House officials. Dr. Hale, who is a close friend of the President, may on his return submit information he has gathered, but in no sense was the latter commissioned to investigate conditions in the republic.

The President expressed to Mr. Underwood his interest in Alaskan legislation and there is likelihood that when the House caucus meets on Monday to lay out the legislative programme for the present session that the Alaskan situation will receive prominent consideration.

MANY WITNESSES IN LIBEL SUIT HEARD

Will Require Another Week to Complete Roosevelt Case

REPETITION OF TESTIMONY

Court Will Adjourn for Memorial Day—The Colonel's Sobriety Being Established—Many Depositions Are Read

Marquette, Mich., May 29.—After four days of court proceedings in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, who charged the plaintiff with drunkness it was indicated tonight that another week would be consumed in completing the case. Tomorrow being Memorial Day, court today was adjourned until Saturday morning. Colonel Roosevelt said he had no plans for tomorrow except that he would not participate in public functions.

Attorneys Pound and Ven Benschoten, for the plaintiff, and Belden and Andrews, for the defendant, today followed the Colonel's trail through nearly every State in the Union, across the Atlantic, through the Mediterranean sea, the Suez Canal to Africa; through the wilds of that continent back to Khartoum, through some of the capitals of Europe and back to Oyster Bay, figuratively smelling his breath for traces of liquor.

Testimony a Repetition

Substantially, the testimony was a repetition of that recorded at previous sessions: The Colonel does touch liquor, but so rarely and so lightly, that he is in the eyes of today's witnesses virtually a teetotaler. Those who testified today were Andrew W. Abele, a former railroad fireman, of Ohio; former Judge A. Z. Blair, who disfranchised hundreds of Ohio voters for selling votes when he was on the bench; Charles Willis Thompson, a New York newspaper man; James R. Garfield, Gifford Pinchot, Lawrence Abbott, owner of the magazine of which the plaintiff is one of the editors; Edward Heller, naturalist of the African hunting expedition; O. K. Davis, secretary of the National committee of the Progressive party; Philip Roosevelt, whose father is a first cousin to the former President, and Edwin Emerson, a newspaper man, who was field clerk to the Colonel in the Rough Riders Regiment.

Including witnesses already heard and depositions and witnesses to come, the plaintiff's testimony as to his sobriety will cover his life from young manhood to the present time. The record of the case will include his conduct in public offices, all the way up to the White House, his appearance on public occasions and on travels and the seclusion of his private life, scarcely without a break.

Cross Examinations Alert.

Cross examination was alert to test the memory of witnesses and particularly to make them show that there were real grounds for their declarations of the Colonel's sobriety. The newspaper men were searched to show how intimate they had been with the plaintiff; the Rough Rider and the naturalist were asked how close their sleeping tents were to that of the Colonel; the lawyers trying to discover if there had not been periods when witnesses could not have known whether the plaintiff was drinking.

Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester; James R. Garfield, former cabinet member, and young Philip Roosevelt, familiar with the domestic habits of the plaintiff, were the witnesses of greatest interest today. Philip Roosevelt said he was 21, and a newspaper man. Asked how long he had known Col. Roosevelt, he replied: "Well, he's known me all my life," in the midst of the titter that went around the room he corrected his answer and said he had known the Colonel ever since he could remember. On cross examination Attorney Andrews inquired as to the stock of liquors and wines kept at the Roosevelt home.

"Champagne?" insinuated the lawyer.

"I don't know, but suppose so."

"Brandy?"

"I don't know, but suppose so."

Andrews continued to name over various kinds of wines and liquors to which Roosevelt returned the same answer, concluding with: "Yes, Rhine wine; everything you would find in a gentleman's cellar."

Anxious to Explain.

Pinchot was anxious to explain just why he considered himself an authority in the Colonel's habits. The former chief forester then explained that he was a student of efficiency, and that, finding Col. Roosevelt to be a sample of that quality studied him to determine whence it came. To this purpose he observed the Colonel's eating habits, what he drank, how and what he read; how he exercised, how he transacted business; in short, every detail which might further the study. He felt qualified therefore to declare that the plaintiff was a man of unusually abstemious habits.

Thompson told of campaign trips he made with Col. Roosevelt and of having been instructed particularly by his paper to study the Colonel's habits, how he said things rather than to quote his words and how the crowds and auditors seemed to take his utterances.

Thompson testified that having faithfully "covered" the assignment he knew that on these trips Col. Roosevelt could not have become intoxicated without his knowing it.

Unusual interest centered in Garfield, a son of a President of the United States testifying for a man who had been President.

Mr. Garfield faced the jury in talking and upon interrogation outlined his acquaintance and friendship with Col. Roosevelt over a period of 20 years, including the time when he was Secretary of the Interior, in the Roosevelt cabinet and during the primary campaign in Ohio, in May of last year.

"What relation were you to President Garfield?" he was asked by Attorney Pound.

"A son," he replied.

"When your father was President of the United States, what was the custom as to the serving of state dinners?"

"My recollection is there were state dinners."

"State whether wines were kept in the White House by the President."

"Yes, there were."

"Not in all your trips with Col. Roosevelt and since you have known him, have you ever seen the plintiff under the influence of liquor?"

"I have never seen him in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor."

"Could he have gotten drunk without you knowing it?"

"I have been with him so much I am sure he could not have gotten drunk without my knowing it."

"What, if any liquor, have you ever seen him use?"

"Only in milk punches. He used brandy in the milk. I don't know how much."

When Mr. Pound asked how the milk punches were made the witness hesitated a moment and then replied, "like milk punches are always made, I suppose."

"Did he ever use liquors as a stimulant on hard trips?"

"He never was stimulated by any wine he ever drank."

"On the primary trip was he ever under the influence of liquor in the slightest degree?"

"Never in the slightest degree."

Mr. Garfield, when cross examined, said he saw on Col. Roosevelt's table at various times only champagne and Sherry.

PLANS TO DISPOSE OF STOCK

Two Alternate Methods of Disposing of Southern Pacific Stock Owned by Union Pacific Are Approved by the Latter

New York, May 29.—Two alternate plans for disposition of the $126,650,000 Southern Pacific stock owned by Union Pacific were approved by the Union Pacific board today. The first contemplates selling the stock to the highest bidders after the manner of municipal bonds, a minimum bid to be hereafter designated; the second contemplates placing the stock with a trustee without voting power to be later distributed upon affidavit that the owners possess no Union Pacific stock.

Both plans will be submitted to the court for approval with the request that the company be permitted to elect which it will adopt. Failing court approval, the Union Pacific company will ask that the stock be placed in the hands of a received to be named by the court.

Declines to Make Statement

Washington, May 29.—Attorney General McReynolds today declined to commit himself on the plans for the dissolution of the Union Pacific merger. His attitude is understood.

The silence of the attorney general led to reports that the Union Pacific's proposition probably did not meet his unqualified approval. In his negotiations with the railroads, he has been insistent that no substantial proportion of the Union Pacific's $126,000,000 holdings of Southern Pacific stock should go to shareholders of the Union Pacific.

It now seems practically certain that the attorney general will institute a suit against the Southern Pacific under the Sherman anti-trust law to compel that road to divorce itself from the Central Pacific. The attorney general, it is said could not force the Southern Pacific toi give up the Central Pacific because the Supreme Court did not order the divorcement.

THE MAINE MONUMENT

The event will be the crowning feature of New York city's memorial day programme. Former President Taft, Secretary Daniels, Secretary Garrison, Governor Sulzer, of New York, and Governor Haines, of Maine, will assist in dedicating the statue. A parade will precede the services. Men from the American battleships, soldiers of the local garrisons and Cuban sailors and soldiers will march.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

New Orleans Man Meets Tragic Death Under Wheels of Trolley Car

New Orleans, May 29.—Luther S. Scott, a prominent business man of New Orleans and widely known throughout the South, was crushed to death under the wheels of a trolley car here today.

Mr. Scott was vice president and general manager of the Southern Coke Company of this city, and was extensively interested in other business concerns in several Southern States. He was owner of the Daily Panhandle, a newspaper in Amerillo, Texas. He was 50 years old.

HEAT PROSTRATION

VETERANS DEPART FOR THEIR HOMES

Scenes of Pathos Accompany the Last Day of Reunion

MANY PICTURESQUE FEATURES

Death Stalks in Midst of Cheering Throngs—Fervent Prayers to Meet in Next Reunion—Parade Impressive.

Chattanooga, May 29.—With flags furled and kits packed, many survivors of the Southern Army who attended the 23rd annual United Confederate Veterans' reunion here, departer for their homes tonight.

Death stalked in the midst of the cheering throng which today participated in the impressive veterans' parade. Three aged soldiers who came to renew campaign friendships made during the war between the States, responded for the last time to their regimental calls.

Robert Nolen, a veteran from Houston, Texas, fell down the steps of the city auditorium. His neck was broken.

B. F. Moore, of Fuque, Texas, who was injured in a fall yesterday, died at a local infirmary today. G. W. Mullenix, of Lindale, Ga., entered a restaurant just after the veterans' parade was ended and dropped dead. Several veterans were exhausted by the trying ordeal of today's march, but at a late hour no additional deaths had been reported.

Scenes tonight at the railroad stations brought tears to the eyes of thousands of visitors who were returning to their homes after attending the reunion. Aged soldiers when parting clasped each other in warm embraces and uttered fervent prayers that they would meet again at the next reunion.

Many were so feeble they could scarcely clamber aboard the trains, but willing hands were ready to assist them.

Crowning Event.

The climax of the reunion came today when several thousand veterans marched and rode through the city streets in their annual parade, accompanied by sponsors, and escorted by National guardsmen from several States.

Scarcely a person of the many thousands who witnessed the grand spectacle tonight was able to speak above a whisper, so vociferous were their cheers accorded the gray haired soldiers.

Gen. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, Ky., commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, led the parade on a prancing horse from his native State. Upon reaching his headquarters he dismounted and, standing bareheaded in the sunshine, watched the survivors of the Confederate army pass by. Members of Gen. Young's staff, Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, Miss Kate Daffan, of Austin, Texas, sponsor for the South, and others were guests of Gen. Young on the reviewing stand.

A picturesque feature of the parade was the presence of several negro "uncles" who followed their masters through the war between the States. A number of these carried live chickens, illustrative of the manner in which they foraged when food was scarce during the fierce campaigns.

They were heartily cheered by spectators and acknowledged the greetings with unique bows peculiar to the antebellum.

Proudly bearing tattered battle flags dimmed by powder, smoke and time, the gray clad survivors of the Confederate army marched through streets awled on either side with cheering thousands.

Standards borne by cavalrymen almost encountered overhead arches formed of entwined Confederate and United States flags. Nearly a thousand of the gray haired veterans were mounted on the prancing horses of the 110th United States Cavalry tendered by Fort Oglethorpe officials and offering another mute testimonial of the burial of the bitterness which characterized the war between the States.

Hundreds of applauding spectators who witnessed the impressive sight were moved to tears by the flood of memories it aroused.

No division appeared in a semblance of its entirety. Only a few staunch survivors were left of the more than 600,000 soldiers who represented the Confederacy in the fiercest struggle of modern times.

Gen. Young's staff was followed by the 11th cavalry band, the survivors of the trans-Mississippi department, the department of Northern Virginia, the department of Tennessee, Forrest's cavalry corps and 1,000 mounted veterans.

Interspersed among the different commands were the sponsors of the divisions of the United Confederate Veterans in each instance followed by aged soldiers riding in automobiles. The Richmond Howitzers and other militia acted as official military escorts to the veterans.

The ranks of the veterans riding in automobiles were swelled from time to time by those who had believed themselves equal to marching in the parade, but who were unable to stand the trying ordeal.

The trans-Mississippi department was headed by Lieut. Gen. K. M. VanZandt, of Fort Worth, Texas, commander, and his staff. Following in close formation were the State brigades.

Next came Lieut. Gen. Theodore S. Garnett, of Norfolk, Va., commander of the army of North Virginia. Brigades in numerical orders and their commanders in this section were Virginia, Commander Gen. Stith Bolling, Maryanld, Commander Gen. A. C. Trippe; North Carolina, Commander Gen. Julian S. Carr; Commander B. H. Teague, West Virginia; Commander Charles O. Peyton, Georgia;

MACKMEN HOLD FIRST PLACE

Frank Baker Won Yesterday's Game From Yanks—Naps Won From Browns—Senators and White Sox Won.

Yesterday was a bad day for the under dogs in the American League, all four of the tail-enders dropping their games to their more fortunate colleagues. At least two of the teams had very good reasons for exerting every pound of their strength to cop yesterday's contests, the retaining of their places in the standing of the clubs depending on whether or not they were able to take yesterday's games. The Athletics were threatened by the Cleveland Naps, and would have had to furl their bunting at top place in favor of Birmingham's clan had they dropped the game, as aforementioned Naps took the opener of their series with St. Louis.

And had it not been for the presence of one John Franklin Baker, he of world series fame, in the game at Philadelphia, it is questionable whether they would have left the field with a victory or not. As it was, the big stickmen of the Mackmen tied the score with a four-base clout in the seventh, and in the ninth, with two out, doubled and scored on McInnis' single, giving the Athletics a victory, 6 to 5.

The Chicago White Sox, fighting to retain their flimsy hold on fourth place, took the first game of the series from the Tigers in a ten-inning game. A fumble by Ty Cobb, was to an extent responsible for the defeat.

The Cleveland Naps came up to the scratch with their first opportunity to get a look-in on first place by taking the first game of the series from St. Louis, 6 to 3, Cy Falkenberg chalking up his ninth straight victory at the same time. The Naps can still take first place today if they will take another game from St. Louis and the Athletics should drop their game.

President Wilson saw the Washington Senators take the first game of the series from the Boston Red Sox, scoring enough runs off O'Brien in the third inning to tie the game up safely. Tris Speaker's brace of misplays contributed to his team's downfall.

"H. R." Baker Comes Back.

Philadelphia, May 29.—Frank Baker hit the ball over the rightfield wall in the seventh inning of today's game with New York and tied the score at five runs. In the ninth, with two out, he doubled and scored on McInnis' single which gave the Athletics a victory of 6 to 5.

Naps Took First.

Cleveland, May 29.—Cleveland defeated St. Louis 6 to 3 in the first game of the series here today, it being Falkenberg's ninth straight victory. Falkenberg was rather wild. Twice he filled the bases with two out and each time Williams struck out. The St. Louis players were delayed en route and went on the field hungry.

Wilson Saw Senators Win.

Washington, May 29.—Washington scored enough runs in the third inning off O'Brien today to defeat Boston, the final score being 5 to 2. O'Brien was found in this inning for three singles, which, with his error and two by Speaker, gave the Nationals three runs. President Wilson was in the grand stand.

Cobb Fumbled—Tigers Lost.

Chicago, May 29.—Chicago won the first game of the series with Detroit today 3 to 2 in 10 innings. In the 10th Easterly, batting for Berger, drew a base on balls. Seider went in to run for him, reached third on Lord's single which Cobb fumbled momentarily and Seider scored on a wild pitch.

Memphis, Tenn., May 29.—Mrs. F. G. Jones, Memphis, will defend her title of woman golf champion of the South tomorrow against Mrs. E. W. Daley, of Nashville, Tenn., in the finals of the championship tournament of the Women's Southern Golf Association. Mrs. Daley was Mrs. Jones' opponent in the semi-finals of last year's tournament.

Both won their matches in the semi-finals today by decisive scores, Mrs. Jones defeating Miss Annie Watkins, Chattanooga, six up and four to play, and Mrs. Daley winning from Mrs. S. H. Phillips, Memphis, 7-5.

In the beginners' division Mrs. A. R. Wooten, Memphis, won the championship trophy. Semi-finals were also played today in the consolation championship in which players eliminated in the first round of match plays of the championship competed. Mrs. A. B. Newell, of Nashville, and Miss Joy Tomlinson, of Birmingham, Ala., won their matches and will meet in the finals tomorrow.

AMATEUR GOLF.

Interesting Contests Being Played in Championship Series.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—Though defeated in the sixth round of the amateur golf championship today by Harold H. Hilton, the English crack of the Royal Liverpool Golf Club, W. Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., by his plucky fight, in the estimation of the British golfers, established his right to rank with "Chick" Evans and Dred Herreshoff as among the greatest young golfers America has produced.

The men were tied on the 18th hole and an extra hole had to be played. Hilton out-drove Schmidt off the tee, but the Massachusetts man made up on his second. Hilton, however, held a long putt and won the hole in three against Schmidt's four. He took his defeat in a sportsmanlike fashion.

Hilton tomorrow will play Harris, of Acton for the championship over 36 holes.

PITTSBURG PRIZE FIGHT

SPEEDWAY AUTO RACES.

Many Contestants—"Parade of Nations" a Feature.

Indianapolis, May 29.—With the completion of the time trials late today everything is in readiness for the start of the third annual 500-mile automobile race at the speedway at 10 o'clock tomorrow. Cash prizes of $75,000 and valuable trophies are offered by the speedway and acessory concerns.

In case of rain heavy enough to prevent the start, the race will be run Saturday.

Tonight the streets are filled with automobiles and the sidewalks crowded with motor enthusiasts. The weather is warm and many will be allowed to sleep in the parks tonight.

Preceding the start of the race there will be a "parade of nations" when the entries from the United States, England, France, Germany and Italy, each bearing the flag of its country in turn will pass in front of the grand stand, while the band will play the national airs of the different nations.

The 27 cars entered in the race will then line up for the start. Carl G. Fisher, president of the Speedway Company, will pace the entrants one lap, which will not count and at the completion of the round a bomb will start the best cars of the five nations away on the grind of 200 times around the 2 1-2 mile brick track.

With the race once under way no one except Charles P. Root, of Chicago, the official starter, will be allowed on the track until the contest is ended. Afl R. Pardington, of New York, is the referee.

The speedway management reported tonight that they expected at least 100,000 would attend. More than 200 newspaper men are here to write the story of the race, one coming from Paris, France.

Bob Burman continued to be the favorite in the betting with several other American entries being given odds against the foreign made cars.

MEET NEXT WEEK

Consolidation of Health Department Made Effective June 1st

Beginning with Sunday, June 1st, the city and county health departments will be consolidated as provided in a bill passed by the last Legislature. The law was effective May 7ht, but it was decided to wait until June 1st before making the consolidation.

The officials and attaches of the department having been elected and their salaries fixed by the County Board of Health that body will not hold another meeting before next week, it was stated yesterday.

The quarters of the consolidated health department will likely be in the basement of the Court House.

State Senator Marsden Bellamy stated yesterday that he had no hesitancy in saying that had he known at the time that it was not the purpose of the city and county to curtail expenses in the matter of salaries and other features of the health work, he would never have consented to support in the last Legislature the bill providing for a consolidation of the health departments. He said that he had in mind all the time that through the consolidation the efficiency of the health work would be increased and the expense of operation would be considerably reduced. The Legislature will meet next January in special session and it is the intention of Senator Bellamy, from his remarks yesterday, to have the law changed so as to return to the former plan of two health departments, one for the city and one for the county.

Indianapolis, May 29.—Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis, outboxed Frank Klaus, of Pittsburg, in a 10-round bout here tonight. Klaus did not land over a dozen blows that counted.

PHILLIES LOST TO GIANTS

McGraw's Men Succeeded in Checking Doginites and Boosted Their Standing—Pirates and Reds Won Again

The New York Giants raised themselves from fifth to fourth place in the percentage column yesterday, and at the same time broke the long winning streak of the Quakertown Phillies, taking the initial game of the series in an exciting 14-inning contest. Tom Seaton pitched the last six innings for Philadelphia and allowed only two hits, after Alexander had allowed five bingles in the first three frames. As a result of this game, New York again goes into fourth place, uprooting St. Louis for the position.

The Pittsburg Pirates took the opener from Chicago, Hyatt's home run over right field fence, the longest hit ever made in the park, tieing the score in the ninth. A single, a double, a base on balls and a long fly, gave the Buccanners the game.

The Cincinnati Reds, who seem to be just straightening out their legs for a dash towards the top, took another game from St. Louis by a 13 to 10 score. Seven pitchers, all of whom were very, very bad, figured in the game.

Phillies' Streak Broken

New York, May 29.—New York broke the Philadelphias' winning streak today, the locals winning an exciting 14-inning game 7 to 6. Fletcher's long hit over McGee's head in the 14th drove in Shafer with the winning run. Shafer had singled with one out. These were the only hits made off Seaton, who pitched the last six innings for Philadelphia.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS

Last Case Cleared From Docket—Mountain Apple Crop Short—Many Charters Issued—Commissions in Guard.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 29.—The North Carolina Supreme Court adjourned for the term this morning and will reconvene the last week in August in the court's new quarters in the quarter million dollar fire-proof Statebuilding now being furnished.

There was only one appeal remaining to be disposed of this morning and the opinion in this was delivered, the court adjourning without leaving a single appeal to go over. The court has made an exceptional record this term in disposing of appeals, the number of appeals being, too, greater than any previous term. The appeal decided today was W. L. Lloyd vs. North Carolina Railroad Co., and Southern Railway Co., of Virginia, from Rowan. Lloyd is an engineer and was injured while inspecting his engine preparatory for taking it from the shops at Spencer, where it had been overhauled, to Barber's Junction on a trial trip. He was injured through alleged negligent defects in the engine and sued for damages. At the trial the Southern Railway Co., set up contentions that the North Carolina Railroad Co., was in no way a legitimate party to the suit and that the Southern Railway Co., of Virginia, being a non-resident corporation, demand was made for removal of the cause to the Federal court. On the presentation of the case the trial judge allowed a non-suit as to the North Carolina Railroad Co., and allowed the removal of the case against the Southern to the Federal court. Judge Hoke writes the opinion for the Supreme Court and reverses the lower court, holding that the North Carolina Railroad Company is, according to the allegations in the complaint, rightly a party to the suit and that the case be restored to the docket of the State court instead of removal to the Federal Court.

Mr. A. Cannon, who has been for 12 years a member of the State Board of Agriculture and will have served 18 years when his present term expires, is here from Hendersonville attending to State Agricultural Department affairs, says that in his section there will not be more than a one-fifth crop of apples, and that in the Haywood county section the yield will be even much smaller, possibly as low as one-tenth yield. Not in 40 years, he says, has there been such a short crop. This, too, is the greatest apple region of the State. He says the short fruit yield prevails throughout the mountain region of the State, and attributes the shortage to the early March freeze.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., May 29.—Dr. Marshall C. Guthrie is to be the quarantine officer at this port, assuming his dtuies here the first of next week. There is a special local gratification over the coming of Dr. Guthrie, as he is a native of Southport, his father being our esteemed townsman, M. C. Guthrie, Esq., and his return will be a source of pleasure and congratulation to his relatives and many friends. He comes from Ellis Island where he has been stationed.

Last night there was a meeting of the Commercial Association to hear the report of the executive committee, which has the conduct of the affairs of the association. The treasurer made his report, both reports being very favorable ones, showing that the interest in the organization was strong.

A small dog belonging to P. C. Tharp, was shipped alive yesterday to Raleigh, to be examined as to the dog's condition, it being feared that it might be a case of rabies. The dog had bitten in play, a child, and it was judged safest to find out the true condition of the dog as soon as possible, specially as there was a child bitten by another dog a week ago, that had a case of rabies, the child now taking Pasteur treatment at Raleigh.

The Civic Club enjoyed its meeting yesterday afternoon very much, on this occasion Dr. T. E. Hughes reading a paper on the history of medicine that was full of instructive interest to the club.

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.

Closing Exercises Yesterday—Number of Graduates Receive Diplomas.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., May 29.—With bright sunshine after three days of heavy rains, the closing exercises of the Atlantic Christian College were especially happy this morning. Following the annual address delivered by Congressman John H. Small, most helpful in its conception and pleasing in its delivery, President John L. Caldwell, delivered the diplomas and certificates. One young woman, Sallie Lewis Bridgers, of Elm City, having completed the full course received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and read her graduating essay—recognized as one of the best productions of the kind ever delivered in Wilson. Miss Bridgers used as her theme the progressive movement of this period.

Congressman Small announced as his subject: "The Ideal Citizen", and in his introductory remarks said that it was the custom of public speakers in North Carolina to dwell upon the good qualities of North Carolinians and refrain from any expression of short-comings. He also, referring to the essay of Miss Bridgers, remarked that he believed the time had come when women should be given equal recognition with men in affairs concerning the educational and public health problems of the people.

The speaker suggested two necessary characteristics of the ideal citizen—that they be lovers of truth and that they devote their lives to service for humanity. He urged that in the consideration of all questions, either public or semi-public that an effort be made to arrive at the truth and then stand upon the result. Every man and woman owes to humanity a part of their time, their money and their energy and every man and woman should exercise energy for the uplift of the human family. In closing his splendid address Mr. Small suggested as avenues of activity for betterment of humanity, the building of public highways and the conservation of the public health and said:

"If we seek the truth in all things; if we consecrate our service to human betterment; if we have the spirit of inspired humanitarianism within us; if we love our kind; we will become ideal citizens and when life's fitful days are over, we can truthfully say that we have left the world a little better than we found it."

President Caldwell delivered diplomas and certificates to the following:

A. B.—Miss Sallie Lewis Bridgers, Elm City.

Art—Miss Eunice Andrews, Wilmington; Miss Lillie Hewitt, Catherine Lake.

Piano—Miss Susie Gray Woodard, Wilson; Miss Elsie Langley, Elm City.

Certificates in Music—Misses Alice Privett, Wilson; Emma Brooks, Bladen county; Elsie Dew, Oriental; Catherine Wells, Elm City, and Miss Blanche Wells, Elm City.

Certificates in the Business Course—Mr. Hezekiah Citizen, Mackey's Ferry; Mr. A. A. Swain, Mackey's Ferry; Misses Ellen Gray Privett, Lula Whitehurst, Emily Midgett, Ethel Barefoot and Mamie Barden, Wilson, and Miss Emily Brinson, Baird's Creek.

The present session of the college is the most successful in its history and a larger enrollment is reported than ever before. Dr. Caldwell and his splendid corps of teachers have made a record for efficient training.

Pity the Unpainted House!

Would you go out in the pouring rain wearing your best clothes if you had no protection such as an umbrella or raincoat? Not if you could help it, you say.

Yet some people expose expensive material to the elements without adequate protection. The building material in your house is expensive and should be protected. Otherwise it will be ruined as surely as the fine clothes you wouldn't wish to wear out in the rain.

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Friday, May 30, 1913.

Al Fairbrother should move his yam farm to eastern North Carolina.

The best way to keep out of trouble is to see it first and let the other fellow have it all.

We have never expected the tariff bill to go through the Senate like it came from the House.

When Wilson says it the people know there's something in it. He means exactly what he says.

Many a great man is incapable of being grateful. Many a grateful man has no capacity for doing anything great.

While we keep right on boosting the opportunities of our community, let us seize some of them by the nape of the neck. That would mean business.

With a distagraph substantiated by a woman, why does that Atlanta man vainly attempt to prove an alibi? When a man faces the double-distilled inevitable he may as well acknowledge the corn and then some.

If re-organization of the Republican party means a revival of the standpatism that levied tribute on the masses for the enrichment of special interests, we move that a few more shovels of dirt be thrown on the decadent cadaver of the G. O. P.

Man is one being with two natures, one of which is a nature faker. When a man feels like kicking himself and calling himself bad names, it is because his good nature has been aroused by the faker part that makes him about as bad as a New Jersey reactionary.

To take one with Jakey Riis and Giff Pinchot is no sign that a fellow would take one every time some Tom, Dick or Harry should rise up frequently and recklessly with the inquiry: "Well, boys, what was it the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina?"

A man will raise cain with his wife about being superstitious about the number 13, but he will spend a half hour looking under the bureau for the "good luck" copper cent that he has lugged around for about ten years. He may even carry a buck-eye in his pocket or wear a 30 cent amulet on his watch fob.

In his testimony, Colonel Roosevelt says he is not a total abstainer. That's the trouble with all of us who occasionally permit ourselves to run with the fellows who never know the water wagon when they see it. By tipping glasses every time we are given the tip, we are liable to have only a faint recollection when all hands get under the table. Of course, a man is liable to deny that anything happened to him at all, but sometimes it is because he really didn't know what occurred.

"Stay in the East," advises Assistant Secretary F. D. Roosevelt, in his address at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. He is right. All those in the East should stay in it, and those who are not in it should get in it and stay in it. The garden spot of the East is in East Carolina and those who stay in it and hustle can "live easy" and deposit money. Staying in this part of the East means staying in "the Nation's Garden Spot" and being able to become a bank depositor in Wilmington.

The trial of that editor for saying things indicating that Colonel Roosevelt "indulges" quite often, shows how easy it is to start reports on a fellow who is trying to do the best he can and trying to can the best he can. According to Colonel Roosevelt's own testimony he is addicted to sweet milk instead of the distilled products that make some men feel like they own the whole town. Swigging sweet milk has never been known to make a man throw his hat in the ring, but even if a man isn't particular where he flings his hat it isn't prima facie evidence that the water wagon is allowed to run around with a vacant seat. Indeed, if a man drinks sweet milk and other soft drinks and sticks to them through thick and thin, there are pesky individuals who pretend to believe that he wouldn't stand any showing if the search and seizure act were enforced regardless of personalities.

A man may testify that he drinks sweet milk and eats doughnuts, but a mere fact of that character, admitted or substantiated, is irrelevant to the allegations in the case. Testimony of such an indirect and purely negligible kind is ruled out and gently deposited in the waste basket along with what has been left of the dodo. In trying a case on its merits we accept as competent evidence the sworn denial of the party, completely substantiated in every particular by his boon companions in campaigns and on fishing frolics. We lay down the broad and magnitudinous proposition that when a man drinks grape juice as a general thing it is not evidence of his abstinence from something better on occasions when he has to be sociable or else be looked upon as a mollycoddle. Resorting to any kind of sociable ruse or extreme measure to keep from displaying the least trait of a mollycoddle is ruled to be not only extenuating but popularly justifiable.

INTERIOR USE OF PORTS

The Georgetown Times gives us a good illustration of the advantage of water transportation as a means of economy in freight rates on merchandise in bulk. Georgetown is a port just south of Wilmington, and it has the advantage of river navigation to Columbia in addition to rail transportation between the ocean port of Georgetown and the river port of Columbia. The Times' story concerns the shipment of immense quantities of starch through that port to Columbia, and that paper tells us that "Georgetown is pouring out starch upon her week in and week out, by the ton and by the carload." A few days ago a Baltimore steamer put into Georgetown with a cargo of starch way-billed to Columbia and shipped there by steamboat. Here is the way the Georgetown paper tells it:

"When the Baltimore steamship came into this port the other day she had aboard two carloads of starch way-billed to Columbia. That would seem to be starch enough to give every man in Columbia a standing collar for every day in the week, with enough left over to give every woman two changes of pique skirts during the same period. It occurs, however, that this shower of starch, like the ones that have preceded it and the ones to follow, will not go to the laundries or to the wash ladies. It is going to the great mills on the canal banks. The cotton mills require termendous quantities of starch in the sizing and finishing of goods, and they buy it in bulk in the Northern markets and ship it by the cheapest route to the point of consumption—that is, through the port of Georgetown to the city of Columbia. The shipment to which we are referring originated in Indiana. The company which forwarded it is new in the field. Two years ago the company was doing mighty little business in this section of the country, because of the almost prohibitory rail rates, now it is selling in carload lots and shipping through Georgetown, the economical water route. The advantage is with not only the selling company, but with the customers as well. Purchasers and shippers are gradually coming to understand the economy of the sea routes from New York and Baltimore to Georgetown and distribution into the interior from this point. The time is not far distant when the economy of this port as a distributing point will be so generally known that there will be set up here by the big factories of the North and West great warehouses for the parceling out of their products in this territory."

There is nothing like a concrete example to illustrate a fact, and that is the reason The Star copies the above from its esteemed Georgetown contemporary. The Times records an occurrence at the port of Georgetown and states certain facts as a matter of interest in the same connection. It is The Star's purpose now to use this occurrence and utilize the facts in making an analysis from which certain conclusions can be drawn and impressed upon those at our ports and those at interior points of distribution.

The main facts are that the port of Georgetown is a potential factor in Columbia's distributing advantages, that river navigation is another factor, and that somebody in Columbia has exercised sufficient intelligence to find it out or impress it upon somebody. By reason of it, Columbia is getting a low freight rate on starch and either the cotton mills there and others within Columbia's distributing territory get the advantage of it as raw material for manufacturing purposes. In a commercial way, Columbia gets the benefit of it as a commodity entering into her trade and furnishing her with material for consumption or distribution.

In a general way, the people at the ports and those in the interior have a concrete example that will enable them to appreciate the importance and value of water transportation. The government money spent on the improvement of Georgetown harbor for the benefit of commerce, has far-reaching consequences—reaching at least as far as Columbia, and, no doubt, in other directions. In this particular instance, it affects both the manufacturing and commercial interests of Columbia, and it adds to the commerce of Georgetown.

Thousands of people in the interior can't see where they are affected by government expenditures in the improvement of our ports and waterways. They ought to be able to see it in Columbia's experience. That is not all. Columbia's experience ought to indicate to other interior cities and towns that they also can use the ports in their business. Perhaps their business men have never thought of it. What is the matter with their thinking about it now? Who waked up in Columbia, or who waked up Columbia? In fact, is Columbia fully awake on this subject?

Has Georgetown, Wilmington and Southport waked up on this subject? Of course, some live men at these ports are awake and doing business, but have the whole commercial communities waked up and united in a common purpose to fully utilize their port advantages and done everything to impress the business men in other cities that they can use a port just like Columbia consignees have used Georgetown?

Individuals at the ports and in the interior can utilize the ports more by giving intelligent consideration to their interests and opportunities. Interior cities should consider the question and utilize the ports when it is to their advantage to do so. The railroads should do so for the reason that they will get more to haul when commerce is increased by their aid. Commerce extends its benefits to the railroads, to the cities, to the manufactories, to the agricultural interests and to all interests concerned in either the efficiency or economy of transportation.

What are Wilmington and Southport going to get out of The Star's object lesson this morning? We can do it by having A Plan to do it. Commerce is one of the potential factors to be utilized in making Wilmington and Southport. We have an ocean gateway and six distributing railways as facilities to be used in a great work that ought to keep us on the hustle. Don't let us fold our arms in irridescent pipe dreams. We ought to wake up and get on our job.

"STAY IN THE EAST."

The Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic Assistant Secretary of the Navy, was the commencement orator at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Raleigh, a few days ago. The press is highly commending him for the practical and timely subject which he discussed before the students and the large audience assembled to hear him. The Raleigh Times says of his address:

"Assistant Secretary of Navy Roosevelt's address at the A. & M. College was timely. 'Stay East, Young Man,' may be said to have been the subject of his discourse. He told of the migration from the East to the West which has been going on for 50 years and the rapid and wonderful development of the great domain west of the Mississippi river. Much of the best blood of the East went into this great section. And it was necessary, necessary for the West, necessary for the whole coontry that that great territory be developed and its great resources brought into activity. But the development of the West, while it has helped the East in many ways, has also been a terrific drain on the East. We all know of the abandoned farms in the North Atlantic States and of the undeveloped lands of the South. Mr. Roosevelt called specific attention to the abandoned farms, then told of a back home movement. He knew of instances where farmers of the West had sold their high-priced lands and come East and bought the lands their fathers or grandfathers left many years ago. With their improved knowledge of agriculture they will make a success in their new homes. The East, according to Mr. Roosevelt, has done enough for the West. It is time now for the young men to stay at home and develop this section. The opportunities are here, not only in agriculture, but in every field. In agriculture they are greater than in the West because of our cheaper and undeveloped lands. 'Stay East, Young Man' and engage in this work is the advice of Secretary Roosevelt."

The young man is going to stay where he is given a chance, or he will go where he knows he will find opportunities. He is going to leave home if he cannot find opportunities here. Nobody can blame him, but many a young man has gone away from home and left splendid opportunities behind him. He did not know what they were and had no one to tell him. In fact, nobody knew, for we have just begun to find out what the resources of the East are. We are just beginning to realize the possibilities in the East. We are now making progress in recognizing the advantages of the East, but are taking advantage of only some of its opportunities.

Education has brought this about. Ignorance has been the handicap. Intelligence is opening the eyes of the young men, and they are making an asset of the heretofore ignored resources and possibilities of this country. We are not yet doing our best with them. We have many discoveries to make before we get our eyes opened good. This gives the young man a better showing in the East, for his education will enable him to see further than the men who cannot or will not see the needs of the country.

"TOO LATE TO WEEP"

The Newbern Journal denies us the privilege of indulging in any kind of lamentation because Wilmington is outside the baseball pale and has to view its ball by wire from a distance. Referring to a somewhat lugubrious and more or less reproachful paragraph in The Star a few days ago, the cruel Journal says:

"The Wilmington Star says that it is pathetic to see baseball fans trying to be enthusiastic in a ball-less town. The Star should not be shedding any crocodile tears for when there was a chance for Wilmington to be instrumental in the forming of a league and thus guarantee unto itself something that the fans could really get enthusiastic about, The Star didn't agitate worth a cent. No need to pity the fans now. Action when action was needed was The Star's utterly overlooked cue."

Oh! you sidewiper! The arrow of conviction has hit a shining mark. We acknowledge the corn. We have been caught with the goods, but there is one thing we are proud of. It is one of our virtues to exhibit perfect frankness and be a shining example of the truth. We might evade, equivocate, and prevaricate to get out of a hole, but it ain't in us. When we are cornered and backed right up against it, we never resort to Ananias' tricks to sneak out of it.

How noble it is, when you are cracked on the coco to be able to put up your paws and surrender like an umpire who knows his business! This should teach all editors that it is the most absurd thing in the world to try to wriggle out of a situation from which there is no escape by the aeroplane of truth. Rather than be hemmed in some editors will dodge, sidestep and straddle just like any ordinary politician.

We are glad to point to this to show how an editor should conduct himself when he is faced by the inevitable. There are three things that an editor should have—truthfulness, honesty and a large bank account. An editor with cunning, malice, prejudice, resentfulness and only 30 cents, ought to get right off the tripod, else forever hold his peace rather than rely on falsehood to save his face.

Mr. George W. Perkins admits that campaign funds are a disgrace. They are generally so regarded by the party that hasn't got one as big as the other party. As a matter of fact, a campaign fund for the legitimate expenses of a campaign is not a disgrace, but the uses to which a slush fund is put by any party is both disgraceful and criminal.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"A Chicago dispatch says 'Lorimer will run on the Republican ticket for United States Senator.' It is more likely that he will run on his nerve."—Wilmington Star. At any rate, his candidacy will insure the election of a Democrat.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Says the Wilmington Star: "We are for just freight rates and just freight weights. Just means a square deal for all sides or else nothing would be just." The idea of justice involves all of this as well as justice of the public towards the railroads. The public, heretofore, have been inclined to suffer too long under discriminations and a healthy atmosphere will not come until the cause of agitation is removed. It would be well for the railways to recognize this.—Greensboro News.

New Hanover county, of which there is not much outside of the city of Wilmington, believes in education and good roads. It carried a bond issue of $175,000 for schools and one of $100,000 for roads at an election held Tuesday. The people of that progressive county would hardly know what to think of the hesitation which characterized Newbern's consideration of a little $20,000 for schools. They apparently realize that schools are a big subject and to be dealt with accordingly when the matter of providing funds for them is being considered.—Newbern Journal.

The Raleigh News and Observer copies what this paper said about the news Mr. Frank McNinch gave out in Washington to the effect that the friends of Governor Craig and Mr. Justice intend to use their freight rate activities as a leverage for nomination to the United States Senate, and also quoted what the Salisbury Post had to say about it. Our Raleigh contemporary is confident the efforts of the parties named have no ulterior motives and it deprecates the attempt to inject politics into the matter. But it says: "The only people who are interested in having their motives impugned and their influence destroyed are the men in charge of the railroads that have robbed our people." In this case we believe The News and Observer is wrong. We believe there is ground for what Mr. McNinch reported and we believe that it is an attempt of the politicians to make capital for their own selfish ends. It is one time when the politicians have forestalled the railroads. The movement bears the thumb prints that might be traced without much difficulty.—Charlotte Observer.

LIGHTNING STRIKES DEPOT.

Destructive Bolt at Snow Hill—Kinston News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 29.—Lightning late yesterday struck the depot of the Carolina Railroad at Snow Hill. The bolt tore off the chimney of the frame station and stunned the agent. A horse standing near the building was apparently stricken dead, but after lying prostrate a few seconds the animal regained its feet, unharmed. The only damage was to the chimney. The stroke came just a few moments before a passenger train arrived from Kinston, and the depot and surrounding space were completely clear of people.

Bruce H. Carraway, of this city, has been engaged by the management of the Atlantic Hotel at Morehead City, as publicity agent for the season, which begins June 7th. Mr. Carraway will enter upon his duties as press man in a few days.

The rains of the past two rays have extinguished destructive fires in the woods around Willow Green and in Olds township, in Greene county, but not until over 1,000 acres of forest lands, some of it containing valuable timber, had been burned over. Costly fires have raged in these sections several times during the Spring, thousands of acres having been burned over and entailing a loss in money which is estimated at several thousand dollars.

Deeds Filed for Record.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday, as follows: A. Rasberry and wife, of Jacksonville, Fla., to George E. Burnett, for $100, one-twelfth interest in a tract of land in Masonboro township, on Spring Branch, adjoining property of S. N. Cannon; Henry C. Bear and wife to Jesse F. Roache, trustee, for $100 and other considerations, part of lot 5, block 102, 129 feet west of Fourth street, and 66 feet north of Church. American Suburban Co., to V. Sidbury, for $600, lots 1 and 2, Carolina Place.

"WELL, IT WAS SIMPLY WONDERFUL"

Is Expression Used by Mrs. Cossey in Telling of Her Narrow Escape.

Carrsville, Ky.—Mrs. F. E. Cossey, of this town, writes the following interesting letter for publication: "Well, it was simply wonderful, what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, did for me. I had been afflicted for nearly six years, with womanly trouble, and would suffer so very much every month!

It would take a book to tell what I have suffered in that time.

I got so that I could not sleep at night, from nervousness. I took many different treatments to treat me, but they did not help me.

I hardly know how to tell you what Cardui has done for me. When I took Cardui, it relieved me at once. I can't praise it enough. I have taken about seven bottles, and nothing else I ever took gave me such relief.

All my friends know how bad I was, and how Cardui has helped me in many different ways."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to weak women, what reason could there be for your not giving Cardui at least a fair trial?

For more than 50 years Cardui has been used with entire satisfaction, by thousands of weak and ailing women.

It will surely help you, too. Get a bottle today.

DR. JOSEPH AKERMAN RESIGNS

Friction Between Himself as Coroner, and Health Department Given as Cause for Decision to Serve No Longer.

Friction between himself in his official capacity and the health department with particular reference to the investigation of deaths wherein no affidavit of suspicion of foul play is made, Dr. Joseph Akerman yesterday morning tendered his resignation as coroner, to which office he was appointed by the Board of County Commissioners last Fall to succeed Dr. C. D. Bell, who resigned upon his departure from the city.

Chairman Willard received the resignation only a few minutes before the special meeting of the Board of Commissioners yesterday at noon, so the matter was not presented formally to the body, but will come up at the regular meeting Monday, when a successor to Dr. Akerman will likely be named.

Dr. Akerman stated in his communication to Chairman Willard that in tendering his resignation he was actuated by several reasons, chief among which was the relation which the office bears to the health authorities, and called attention to the fact that the duties of the office of coroner as laid down by statute are so vastly different from what the health department contends they are that there has been more or less friction ever since he assumed the office, the last clash being in regard to his refusal without an affidavit to make an investigation of the cause of the death of J. Cards, who lost his life while bathing from a steamer on the river Sunday afternoon, presumably from drowning.

Dr. Akerman contends that the law does not give him the right to make an investigation in cases until an affidavit is made of probable cause of foul play or unless ordered to do so by the State solicitor. The law provides for compensation only when an inquest is held on an affidavit. No affidavit was made in the case of Cards, it is said, and Dr. Akerman declined to make an investiagtion and give a burial certificate, leaving this to be done by the health department, or whoever those interested care to have make the certificate.

The health department, on the other hand, contends that it is the duty of the coroner to act in such matters. Before death certificates are issued there must be a physician's certificate as to cause of death, and answer the argument that there are two physicians in the health department, either one of whom might attend these cases and make certificate as well as the coroner, by saying that the law does not clothe the physicians of the health department with judicial powers and therefore they are not called upon to make an investigation. The position of the health department is that the action of coroner in these matters is particularly necessary in suspicious cases of the cause of death of infants.

Dr. Akerman has taken the position that if the health department has reason to believe that a crime has been committed either in the matter of infants or in any other cases brought to its attention in which affidavit is not made by outside parties, that the affidavit may be made by some one in the health department and he would gladly convene a jury and make a thorough investigation as required of him by law.

Some months ago the matter was brought up before the Commissioners by Dr. Akerman, who merely asked to be enlightened as to his duties in such cases. County Attorney Marsden Bellamy was present at the meeting and he advised the Commissioners that the coroner could not be required to act except on an affidavit. The matter of making a special appropriation to cover investigation of cases wherein there was some ground for suspicion yet not sufficient to justify an inquest was discussed, but it was decided that this work should be done through the health department.

Mr. Bellamy stated for the information of the board that the vital statistics act then pending in the Legislature and has since become a law, effective in the Fall, would cover the conditions complained of, as it gave to the officers of the health department the powers of a judicial officer to make investigation in cases of the character mentioned.

No more was heard of the differences between the coroner and the health department until the developments with reference to the body of the sailor who was drowned Sunday.

The law defining the duties of the coroner is Section 1051. Revisal of 1905, as follows: "Holds Inquests: When Physicians Summoned. It shall be the duty of the several coroners, wherever it is made to appear, by the affidavit of some responsible person, that the deceased probably came to his death by the criminal act or default of some person or persons, or at the request of the solicitor, to go to the place where the body of such deceased person is and forthwith to summons a jury of six good and lawful men; whereupon the coroner, upon oath of said jury at the said place, shall make inquiry when, how and by what means such deceased person came to his death, and his name if it were known, together with all the circumstances attending his death," etc.

Dr. Akerman was out of the city last night and Dr. Nesbitt, the superintendent of health, would not discuss the matter for publication, so what is given above is merely the recollection of others regarding the differences existing between the coroner and the health department, which, however, are believed to be about correct as to the positions taken by each.

A REAL WORK OF ART.

Handsome Advertising Booklet Work of Wilmington Printery.

Through an inadvertence, in mentioning the issuance of the handsome advertising booklet of the New Hanover Traction Company, the Star failed to state yesterday that this work of real art is the product of a Wilmington printing house—that of the Wilmington Stamp & Printing Co., of which Jos. W. Little, Esq., is president. The booklet is beautifully and neatly printed and reflects more than usual credit upon its producers—equal, in fact, to anything that could have been done by the larger lithographic and printing establishments North.

Skimmed Milk Ordinance.

The health department announces that the ordinance prohibiting the sale of condensed skimmed milk in containers of less than one gallon will be strictly enforced. It is intended to safeguard the children of the city. In the past this kind of milk has been sold in small quantities, retailing at 5 and 10 cents. Hereafter it can only be handled in gallon quantities.

ENFORCE CRUELTY LAW

Police Department to Watch Treatment of Dumb Animals Closely

Councilman W. F. Jones, of the Department of Public Safety, told a Star man yesterday that among other things, the police department intended to pay close attention to violations of the State law relative to cruelty to animals, and to make arrests wherever evidence of cruelty was found. He said that in his opinion cruelty to dumb beasts was much more of a crime than violations which are denounced much more widely and every person detected in overloading, mistreating, viciously punishing or otherwise making animals suffer would surely be made to taste the penalties provided. It is expected that it will not be difficult to catch violators among the drivers of the malmed and decrepit "plugs" which abound throughout the city.

The offense is classed as a misdemeanor and is punishable at the discretion of the courts.

"FRAMED UP" THE DOCTOR?

Secured Prescription for Alcohol and Indicted Him for It

An interesting little story comes from another county, minus names, to the effect that a man representing himself as a traveling photographer, applied to a physician for a prescription for a pint of alcohol for use in developing his plates; and convincing the doctor that it was a bona fide transaction, secured a prescription and had it filled at one drug store, after which he went into another drug store in the same town and had drinks made up. Soon thereafter a detective employed to ferret out blind tigers swore out a warrant against the doctor and he was arrested for violation of the prohibition law. The doctor believed it was a "frame up" and secured a detective of his own, and it is reported that he has ample evidence to show that he was the victim of a conspiracy. The case has not yet been tried.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY CORBETT

Most Estimable Lady Passed Away Yesterday Morning

Mrs. Mary A. Corbett, widow of Mr. J. H. Corbett, died at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, No. 722 South Fourth street. She was in her 67th year and is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Taylor, and several grandchildren. The funeral will be held from the residence this afternoon at 4:30 and the interment will be in Bellevue. Mrs. Corbett was beloved by very many people for her goodness, her broad sympathies and unselfishness, and it was with great sorrow that those who enjoyed and valued her acquaintance heard that she was no more.

Ministers vs. Doctors Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 the baseball game between the ministers of the city and the physicians will be called at League Park. The line-up was published in The Star yesterday. ## CHAMBER COMMITTEES

Error in List Published Yesterday—Enthusiastic Meeting

Through error the name of Dr. E. S. Bulluck appeared as chairman of the Health and Sanitation committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the list printed in The Star yesterday morning, when it should have been Dr. Thos. S. Burbank. Dr. Burbank attended the meeting of the committee chairmen Wednesday afternoon and is very much interested in this phase of the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting of the committee chairmen Wednesday afternoon was the first time a meeting of the kind has ever been held in the organization and from the interest and enthusiasm shown it will be productive of much good. In the list of committees printed yesterday there was a new one, the Streets and Wharves committee, with Mr. Jno. S. McEachern as chairman. This committee is considered of much importance to the organization and will likely be an active one with Mr. McEachern as its chairman.

The Recorder's Court

The docket in the Recorder's court yesterday was very light. Jones, alias George Davis, charged with assault and battery on David Stubbs, eight-year-old son of D. J. Stubbs, was fined $25 and costs. Buddie Sampson alias Coot Buddie, was tried for assault with deadly weapon, to wit, a knife, on James McNeal, whom he cut slightly, and the case was left open until today, for sentence. Among the business of the court today will be the case against L. W. Johnson, white, who shot Tom Devane, colored, Tuesday evening. Devane is also charged with assault on Johnson. He may not be able to attend court, as he was shot in the leg.

VINOL HELPS OLD PEOPLE

Here is Proof That It Creates Strength

So many cases like this are constantly coming to our attention that we publish it for the benefit of others: Mrs. James McCormick, of Cohoes, N. Y., says: "My mother is an elderly lady and after having pneumonia she did not seem to recover her strength. She was so weak it was about as much as she could do to get from her room into the living room. Her strength seemed to be all gone. I commenced to give her Vinol and in less than a week she was like a new woman. She had regained her strength so she could get around anywhere."

It is the medicinal curative elements of the cod livers without oil aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which are contained in Vinol that makes it so efficient in such cases.

If you have an aged father, mother or anyone in your family who needs a strength-creating tonic, try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to benefit.—Robt. R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, N. C. (advertisement.)

OFFER BONDS FOR SALE

Commissioners to Place $25,000 Road Bonds on Market—Returns of Election Canvassed—Tax Assessors Named.

After canvassing the returns of the bond issue elections held Tuesday, finding that both had carried, the schools by a margin of 113 and the roads by 29, the Board of County Commissioners, in special session yesterday at noon adopted a resolution offered by Commissioner McGirt authorizing the chairman to advertise for sale $25,000 worth of the road bonds.

It was decided that the bonds soon to be offered for sale shall run for 25 years, bear interest at the rate of 4 1-4 per cent. and cannot be sold for less than par. The money is needed to pay the balance that will soon be due on the bridge over the Northeast river at Castle Haynes and for continuing the permanent road work.

The Commissioners also passed the following resolution with reference to re-assessment of property facing and abutting on streets that were recently improved:

"Be it resolved, That Eduard Ahrens and D. L. Gore be and they are hereby appointed additional tax listers for Wilmington township, and, further, That the said listers, so appointed to proceed to view and examine any and all real estate abutting on any street or streets in the city of Wilmington, N. C., that may have been improved prior to January 1st, 1913, under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of North Carolina, ratified March 2nd, 1907, and entitled 'An act to allow the city of Wilmington, N. C., to issue bonds for street improvement.'

"That said listers, if in their opinion, the value of any such real estate so abutting as aforesaid, has been increased or enhanced by reason of any such improvement shall increase the assessed value thereof by such amount as the same has been enhanced by such improvement."

Messrs. Gore and Ahrens were selected to re-assess the property that has enhanced in value by reason of the street improvements, principally because they are large property owners and would, therefore, be in better position to make adjustments that would be satisfactory all around than persons who have less property interests. It is understood that the additional listers will be expected to act as assessors of other property where improvements have been made or where buildings have been removed.

Upon motion Commissioner McGirt was authorized to have the horses and mules at the county farm insured.

The Court House committee, on motion of Commissioner McGirt, was authorized to confer with a committee from the City Council to arrange for the consolidation of the quarters of the county and city health departments. It is likely that quarters for the department will be fitted up in the Court House.

The official returns of Tuesday's elections were made to the Commissioners at noon yesterday. They showed the semi-official vote as given in The Star to be nearly correct, there being a difference in the totals of only five in the school bonds and four on the road bonds, which did not in any wise change the result. The returns as canvassed showed that there were registered 1,803 for the school bond election and 1,806 for the roads; 1,015 for and 133 against. Total of 1,806 registered for roads; 933 for and 181 against. Necessary to carry the school bonds, 902, therefore there was a margin of 113; necessary to carry road bonds, 904, giving a margin of 29 votes.

END OF FISCAL YEAR.

Newly Appointed City Officials Will Take Charge June 1st.

The fiscal year of the city ends tomorrow and thereafter the changes made by Council in the personnel of city officials in the various departments will be effective. In the offices of city clerk and treasurer and tax collector no changes will take place, as Capt. Thos. D. Meares and Col. H. C. White were re-elected by the new Council to those positions, respectively. Former Chief of Police N. J. Williams will receive from Chief J. J. Fowler the insignia of that office, and Chief Fowler, who has served as alderman, tax collector, city clerk and treasurer, Mayor and chief of police during a period covering many years, will again be a private citizen. Mr. W. E. Merritt succeeds Mr. R. C. Cantwell as superintendent of the water and sewerage department. For the past two weeks he has been at work in the office of the water department, getting familiar with details. Having been connected with the Wilmington Sewerage Co., as superintendent some years ago, he is familiar with that work. Mr. John McAlister takes the place of Superintendent Johnson in the street department.

Among other things that will mark the changing of the old order will be the destruction of the whiskey now on hand in police headquarters. Chief Fowler will be master of this ceremony, which will probably take place today on the City Hall premises. The bottles and jugs will be broken and the remains interred in a grave dug hard by the City Hall. The finer whiskey will be turned over to the hospital. The grave was prepared yesterday and is four feet deep, two feet wide and about five feet long.

FIRE AND WATER ITEMS.

Two Matters to be Brought to the Attention of Council.

At the next meeting of Council Wednesday morning at 9:15 o'clock, Councilman W. F. Jones, Department of Public Safety, will bring up the subject of selling the city property at Sixth and Castle streets and using the proceeds to build a modern fire and market building on the city property at Fifth and Castle. No expense would fall on the city by the transaction and a splendid building would result, it is argued. Fire Chief Schnibben urges the matter and Councilman Jones endorses it.

Another item that will be discussed at the next meeting of Council will be Councilman Wood's flat water rate proposition. He advocated this before election and is determined to press it to a conclusion. He argues that the abolition of the meters would save so much that there would really be a larger income from water department. Mr. W. E. Merritt, the new superintendent of the water department, will investigate the subject between now and the meeting and will submit his findings.

ASSISTANT PASTOR LEAVES

Rev. M. O. Alexander, of First Baptist Church, to Chicago

Rev. M. O. Alexander, since January, 1912, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, leaves tomorrow for Black Mountain to spend his Summer vacation, after which he will go to Chicago to enter the Moody Bible Institute. During his residence in the city Mr. Alexander has formed many warm friendships and it is with sincere regret that he is given up. He was first assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., later being assistant to Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, of the First church, his duties being the care of church finances and preaching at Wrightsboro, Winter Park, Delgado, East Wilmington, Castle Haynes and Farmer's. His work has been of a high order and eminently satisfactory.

His successor is Rev. W. M. Craig, a graduate of Furman University, and an experienced Y. M. C. A. worker. The work at Castle Haynes and Farmers' will hereafter be done by Mr. R. F. Coleman, and that at Delgado by Mr. C. B. Newcombe, so that Mr. Craig's labors will be confined to the church finances and the Winter Park church, though he will have opportunity to assist in Sunday school work and in general church work. He will receive a cordial welcome from the church and its friends.

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM HER WEALTHY HUSBAND

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "The following from the New York Sun will be of interest to friends in this State, where the Marchesa's father, Rev. Peyton Hoge, was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church at Wilmington.

"The Marchesa di San Germano, who is the daughter of the Rev. Peyton Hoge, of Pewee Valley, Ky., expects soon to be divorced. Her husband has lived several months in Hungary and changed his nationality in order to get the benefit of Austrian law.

"The Marchesa has the custody of their only child, a girl, who is now in America. She intends to leave for home as soon as a decree granting a certain sum for the maintenance of herself and her child is granted.

"Her marriage was one of the few cases in which a wealthy Italian nobleman took as his bride an American without a monetary settlement. The Marchesa has been for the last few days with the Princess Rospigliosi at the latter's castle as Maccaree."

SUPERIOR COURT ADJOURNS

Two Weeks' Term Dwindles to Four Dull Days and Halts—Prospects of Settling Sidbury-Moore Case

Superior Court, which convened Monday for a two weeks' term for the trial of civil actions, came to a stop yesterday afternoon and with the signing of several judgments and orders last night, was adjourned for the term by Judge Justice, who leaves for his home in Rutherfordton.

The last case heard was that of the Kentucky Horse and Mule Co., vs. the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, for damages to livestock shipped to this city. The jury returned a verdict for $500.

Other cases disposed of yesterday were: Sarah J. Howard vs. Kate J. Howard, judgment; John E. Wood vs. Cicero Dixon, et al., alias summons; Bancroft Whitney Co., vs. Cobb, judgment for $322.50; A. D. Rich, et al., vs. A. D. Rich Co., judgment for dismissal; J. E. Norwood, et al., vs. Standard Oil Co., et al., judgment; Theo. M. Byers, et al., vs. Scott's Hill Lumber Co., decree; Byrd vs. Walker Taylor, continued for second case at next term; Southern National Bank vs. Dixie Scale Co., referred to E. S. Martin, Esq.; Wilmington Lumber Co., vs. City of Wilmington, referred to E. S. Martin, Esq.; Boney & Harper Milling Co., vs. J. C. Stevenson, reports and claims to be filed by June 6th, and orders by judge to be made out of court and district, by agreement.

It was reported yesterday that the cases entitled K. C. Sidbury and wife vs. Roger Moore, et al., and J. W. Powell and wife vs. Roger Moore, et al., had been settled out of court, but this proved to be unfounded, though it is known that negotiations are being carried on to reach a settlement, and it is possible that the suits will be closed up. The cases grew out of the alleged wire-tapping swindle in New York some months ago.

Nothing further was done in the McIlhenny building case, and it will come up before Judge Justice at chambers in Kinston June 10th, during the session of Lenoir county Superior Court. The city and Mr. J. M. Solky were enjoined temporarily from carrying on further operations in the matter. The city had condemned the building and ordered that it be torn down. Mr. Solky is tearing away adjoining structure, preparatory to erecting a theatre.

TRUCK AND BERRY NEWS

Bean Movement Begins Slowly but Will Soon be in Full Swing

With the coming of June first the bean movement is opening at Goldsboro, Faison, Mount Olive and other points, though until now few shipments have been made. Orders were placed yesterday for two cars to be loaded today at Goldsboro and one car at Faison. As stated the crop has been badly cut by frosts and cold weather, and in spite of increased acreage, the growers do not figure at the outside on more than 30 or 40 per cent of their crop. Prices have begun low compared with the opening figures last year. Green beans bring $1.25 and wax beans $1.

Probably the last car of strawberries will go from the W. & W. road tomorrow, this being loaded at Rose Hill. The Mount Olive Tribune, noting the close of the season there, reviews the crop in that vicinity and says that it amounted to 37,000 baskets, 22,000 less than in 1912. The price secured has averaged not less than $2.50 a crate, compared with an average of $1.50 last year, so that although the 1913 crop was cut by unfavorable weather, the growers received $93,000 for it, as compared with $89,000 in 1912.

Irish potatoes are moving and the prospects are for prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.50 per barrel. The crop in many places will not foot up more than 50 per sent, and in some places will not approach that. The same unfavorable weather conditions that operated against berries and other truck, got in their work on the potatoes.

A few crates of huckleberries are being shipped, and this crop is also reported short. Reports from Sampson county say that the frosts put Sampson's "old standby" out of business this season.

..Theatrical..

The famous detective, William J. Burns, just as he appears in the flesh, and at work in one of the most startling of all cases, will be at the Bijou theatre today. It is truly the event sensational, the occasion up to the very second, and it is the greatest moving picture offering ever made anywhere and will be made today by the Bijou without one cent additional expense to its patrons.

The show today will be a wonderful Kalem three-reel creation, "Detective William J. Burns in the Exposure of the Land Swindlers," and it will present the noted detective, who ran to ground the celebrated dynamiters, Ortie McManigal, the McNamara brothers and others, and who tracked the Ohio Legislature grafters and figured in the Cole Blease case, in the stellar role, assisted by the noted actress, Alice Joyce, who is a big favorite. The story throughout the big three reels, is a thriller, and it shows some clever detective work, with a startling climax. There is a chase by train that will prove decidedly exciting and scenes showing how Burns works the much talked of detectaphone, or dictagraph. There will also be fine music on today, to add to the attractiveness and brightness of the big show.

Grand Theatre Today.

Never satisfied with doing things like most popular-priced playhouses do, the Grand Theatre for today has provided an extra offering both in the pictures and in the new music by the popular orchestra. There will be not only the usual offering in the pictures but a big two-reel Vitagraph, the subject of which is "The Modern Prodigal", a sensationally produced picture of life as it is lived every day in the up-to-date city. Lovers of animal life will be interested to know that in this picture appears one of the cleverest dog actors in existence. He will be seen in a number of stunts that have already made this Vitagraph dog famous. This picture and one other reel will round out about the best offering in the "movies" seen in Wilmington in a fortnight. If you miss it, you can't blame anybody but yourself.

The music by the orchestra will begin with an overture, "Mammy Jimmy's Jubilee," by Gilbert and Muir, while a favorite number will be a two-step, "In the Heart of the Kentucky Hills," also by Gilbert and Muir. Still another number by the same composers is "We've Got a Parrot in Our House." The finale is a waltz, "Wisteria," and "Love Whispers," the former by Greene and the latter by Daly. This programme will be one of the very best of the week and admirers of the orchestra should be certain to hear this programme.

"ORIGINAL BACK HOMER."

Mr. W. D. Roberts Identified With Big Richmond Movement.

Mr. W. D. Roberts, the well known publicity man and press correspondent who launched three years ago the original movement for a "back home coming" in the South and whose trenchant articles and pleasing notices found publication all over the country, has lived to see his idea germinate in preparations for a giant "Back Home Celebration," which the city of Richmond, through its Business Men's Club has undertaken for 1914. Mr. Roberts has done much towards popularizing the movement everywhere. His identification with the Richmond movement would ensure for that enterprise about the widest publicity it could gain, especially in the South where Mr. Roberts is so well and favorably known; especially in the newspaper profession.

THE COTTON MARKET WEAK

Old Crop Liquidation and Favorable New Crop Reports Affect the Strength of the Staple—The Close Steady.

New York, May 29.—The cotton market showed renewed weakness under continued old crop liquidation and favorable new crop accounts, with the close steady at a net loss of 3 to 14 points. Business was probably restricted to some extent by the proximity of the three-day adjournment, but trading was active at times, and new crop positions sold back to practically the 11-cent level.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 19 points on May, and of 4 to 11 points on later months, under a renewal of yesterday's selling movement, lower Liverpool cables, report of labor troubles in Lancashire, and favorable private condition reports. There were some additional May notices circulating, also a few June notices which increased the nervousness of the market, and old crop months sold 12 to 19 points net lower shortly after the call.

Buying of late deliveries against old crop sales and covering of shorts for over the holidays, rendered new crop deliveries relatively steady and caused slight rallies from time to time, but active positions reached the low point in the late trading, and closed at a rally of only 2 or 3 points. The private crop reports were issued, one making the condition 80.5 and the placing the increase in acreage at 4.8 per cent., while the other placed the condition at 84.6 and indicated an increase of 3.7 per cent. in acreage. A canvass of the local trade resulted in 95 estimates as to the probable showing of the government crop report on Monday, which averaged 83.1 per cent., comparing the official June condition of 78.9 per cent last year, and a ten year average of 79.9 per cent.

The New York market will be closed from tonight until next Monday morning. New Orleans will be open tomorrow, but closed on Saturday, while the Liverpool market will remain open for business as usual. Detailed weather reports showing higher night temperatures in the belt were considered favorable and there was nothing in the official forecast to attract criticism.

Spot cotton, quiet, 10 points off; middling uplands, 11.80; sales, 144 bales.

Futures closed steady.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Market Developed Renewed Weakness During the Past Week Owing to More Optimistic View of New Crop Conditions.

New York, May 29.—The cotton market developed renewed weakness during the past week, owing to a more optimistic view of the new crop start, indications that the speculative short interest had been considerably reduced on the recent advance of some 40 to 45 points, and reports that after shipping 50,000 bales or more from the local stock, houses with Liverpool connections remarked part of the cotton taken up on May contracts early in the month.

Business was said to have been somewhat restricted by uncertainties as to weather or other developments over the three-day adjournment and covering caused slight rallies, but numerous predictions of lower prices in the event of continued good weather, suggested a bearish average of sentiment around the ring. Except for scattering complaints of low night temperatures, grassy fields in some few sections of the Central belt or of insufficient rain in parts of South Carolina, the week's weather news has been regarded as generally favorable and most crop reports have indicated a start above the ten-year average.

Ranging from 78.5 up to 85 per cent., private condition figures have averaged a little over 82 per cent., and a canvass of New York exchange members made today indicated an average expectation that the government report at noon on Monday will make the condition of the crop around 83 per cent., comparing with 78.9 last year, 87.8 two years ago, and 79.9 the ten-year average. Acreage reports meanwhile have pointed to an increase of fully 3 or 4 per cent., which, on the basis of last year's revised figures, would bring the area up to within one or two per cent. of 1911, and local bears claim that with this start, and with average growing conditions the outlook is for an adequate supply.

STOCKS SHOW DEPRESSION

As a Result of St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Receivership—Speculators Unable to Grasp Import of Move.

New York, May 29.—The important development of the day in the local stock market, which continued to show a degree of depression resulting from the St. Louis and San Francisco receivership, was the publication by the Union Pacific directors of alternative plans for the disposal of the company's $120,650,000 Southern Pacific stock. One of these plans is novel in the sense that it suggests public bids after the manner of a city bond offering. Judging from the course of the Harriman issues, which were irregular in the early session, but became feverish on publication of these plans, the traders and speculative public generally seemed unable to grasp the import or significance of this latest move.

Union Pacific rallied toward the close, however, while Southern Pacific made a net loss of one point.

Elsewhere in the active list Canadian Pacific, was again prominent for its activity at receding prices. As usual, the selling was attributed to Berlin, but some of the liquidation was traceable to Canadian sources. Various stocks in the so-called Gould and Hawley groups were very weak, recording the lowest prices in some years. The industrial list was notably firm by comparison.

Railroad returns for April ranged from good to unfavorable, Lackawanna and Reading coaling under the former category, with New Haven in the latter.

Substantial recovery in 'Frisco bands was noticeable. In Government issues, Panama 3s declined ¼ per cent. for the week on call. Total sales, par value $1,740,000. Total sales of stocks were 192,500 shares.

VETERANS DEPART FOR THEIR HOMES

mander H. Harrison, of Opelika, of the Army of Tennessee, rode at the head of the State division in that section.

What was considered one of the most impressive and inspiring spectacles in the parade formed the rear of the parade. One thousand mounted veterans preceded by a cavalry corps of the late Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, who won the name of the "Wizard of the Saddle" during the War Between the States, composed this section. Gen. H. A. Taylor, commanded.

Humorous Sidelights.

The veterans for the first time since the war between the States were mounted on United States cavalry horses. Many humorous scenes were enacted when the members of the 11th United States Cavalry turned their mounts over to the aged veterans. Some of the soldiers had to be assisted into the saddle, but all maintained their seats during the parade, despite the capers of the prancing steeds.

This afternoon the Pied Piper of Hamlin was presented in a local park by several hundred school children in honor of the veterans.

In an official memorial to the United Confederate Veterans tonight Gen. Young calls attention to the significance attached to the furnishing of the government horses to the veterans for today's parade. The memorial in part follows:

"Tents and cots have been tendered by the United States government, but never before have the Confederate Veterans been supplied with government horses for their annual parade. This act of the governmen toward the people of Chattanooga and toward the veterans is most highly appreciated. Surely this action indicates that all the bitter feeling of the war has passed away. In no other country in the world, save this great republic, has such a thing even been possible. It speaks volumes for the spirit that dominates the greatest republic of the world. It shows that in 50 years the passion and passage of the most extended civil war in history has been replaced by a comradeship which is superior to any peace monument."

Tonight reunion week was closed with a grand ball tendered to the Sons of Confederate Veterans who met simultaneously with the United Confederate Veterans.

MURDER MYSTERY UNSOLVED

Efforts of Authorities to Reveal Criminal Are Futile

Atlanta, Ga., May 29.—Efforts of the authorities of Fulton and DeKalb counties to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Sarah Stevens and her daughter, Nellie, whose charred bones were found on Wednesday morning in the ashes of the Stevens home near here, have so far failed, and tonight the crime is as puzzling as ever.

Wade Stevens, 19-year-old son of the dead woman, who was sought upon direction of the coroner's jury, was located in Chattanooga, and brought back today. It is said that young Stevens was seen in Chattanooga early Wednesday morning, and therefore, could not have been connected with the crime in any way. William Stevens, husband of the murdered woman, did not know of the tragedy until he returned today from Chattanooga, where he was attending the Confederate reunion. The aged veteran says he will hunt down the persons who killed his wife and girl.

POLICE EXONERATED

Are Absolved from Blame for Disorders Attending Suffrage Pageant

Washington, May 29.—Superintendent Sylvester and the Washington police are absolved from blame for the disorders which attended the big woman suffrage pageant here on March 3rd by the report of the Senate committee which investigated the affair, presented to the Senate today.

The immense crowd that flocked to Washington for the inauguration, and the fact that street cars were permitted to operate along the line of march up to the last moment, were charged with being principally responsible.

The committee held that while some of the uniformed and some special policemen acted with apparent "indifference" and made little attempt to check the crowds, the whole force should not be discredited.

Chief Sylvester was exonerated of "hostility" to the suffragettes.

WHITEVILLE AFFAIRS.

Clean-up Week—New Court House. Good Rains—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., May 28.—The season for cleaning-up has come and the calls to clean up the town by the town officials and the Civic League have been promptly responded to by the citizens. Many loads of trash and rubbish have been hauled away and the fly and mosquito have been robbed of a breeding place. The sidewalks and streets are now being weeded and cleaned and great improvement is manifest where this work has been done.

All Columbus county is looking forward to the next meeting of the County Commissioners, which will be held Monday, to hear their decision in the Court House matter. Plans were drawn up and presented at the Commissioners' meeting the first Monday in May. The plans were put into the hands of a special committee who noted the changes and returned them to the architect. They have been redrafted and will again be laid before the commissioners Monday. Mr. J. F. Leitner, the architect, stated that it would cost $40,000 or more to build the new court house, the cost exceeding that figure to depend entirely upon the grade of material used in its construction. Everyone is anxious for something definite to be decided so the money can be raised and the work begun.

Heavy rains fell all over the county yesterday afternoon and all night last night. In many places the fields were bodly washed and lots of fertilizer was washed out of the fields, especially was this so where the ground was freshly plowed. A hail storm of about ten minutes' duration accompanied the rain yesterday afternoon. The hail was very large and did much damage to the cotton and other young crops.

The special term of court ordered some weeks ago by the Governor will convene here for two weeks, beginning Monday, June 2nd. Judge G. S. Ferguson will preside and only cases of a civil nature will be heard. Over 100 cases are calendared.

A hardship is worked on the farmers who have been drawn for the jury and summoned for witnesses on account of this being the most important season in the whole year on the farm.

The Jefferson Davis Chapter of the U. D. C., has issued invitations to the old Confederate soldiers in this county to be present at the celebration of Jefferson Davis' birthday on Tuesday, June 3rd. Rev. J. H. Poteat, pastor of the Baptist church here, will be the orator for the occasion. An elaborate dinner will be prepared and everything is being put in readiness to give the old veterans a royal good time and something good to eat.

Those fond of the "movies" are being pleasantly entertained at the High School auditorium this week by the Lindall Moving Picture Company. Most of the pictures shown are interesting and elevating and are as good as the average film shown in the cities.

Mrs. T. L. Gantt, wife of the former editor and proprietor of the News-Reporter, has been in town for several days looking after some of her property.

Preparations are being made to entertain the Wilmington Presbyterial which will meet with the Ladies' Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church here on June 18th, 19th and 20th.

Mr. W. R. Smithwick, formerly principal of the schools here, has accepted a position as principal of the schools at Windsor for the ensuing year. Mr. C. R. Spencer, of Warsaw, will probably be the next principal here. He was in town the latter part of last week looking over the field and it is generally understood that he will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Smithwick.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Comparison of Trade Conditions in Various Sections.

New York, May 29.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade reports continue to exhibit fairly sharp lines of demarcation in that current distribution still surpasses future business and that surplus crop growing sections manifest more progressiveness than Eastern territory. In other words, trade in the West reflects optimism born of favorable prospects as regards wealth from crops, which outlook is not clouded to any great extent by such matters as coming tariff conditions, while the East depression as regards future requirements is plainly in evidence, uncertainties concerning tariff reductions being the deterring features.

One of the most remarkable features of the reports is the utter absence of pessimism; on the contrary, most Western centers are conservatively optimistic, the prevalent keynote being that trade will ultimately develop along satisfactory lines.

Money is easier, demand in the West is good, but banks are pretty well set against parting with funds except for relatively short periods. Stock market operations remain quiet.

Business failures for the week ending May 28th (five days only) were 218, which compares with 231 in the like week of 1912.

Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 6,093,357 bushels, against 4,914,400 bushels this week last year.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose.

Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.
